

JAPS DEFEAT RUSSIANS IN GREAT LAND BATTLE

They Drove the Czar's Forces from Various Strongholds

And Won a Victory That is Complete.

Mikado's Fleet Co-Operated Effectively With the Land Forces.

The Fighting Began Last Tuesday and Was a Series of Japanese Victories With the Culmination on Sunday When a Crossing of the Yalu Was Forced and Japs Captured Positions.

London, May 2.—(Bulletin)—Baron Hayashi, this afternoon issues a later report sent by General Kuroki regarding the fight on the Yalu. The report is dated at Kiuleng-Cheng, Manchuria, which is to the northeast of Antung. His report follows:

"We advanced on May 1 along three roads driving the enemy before us. At 8 p. m. we captured the line from Antung Sien to Liushu-Uko. The Imperial Guards surrounded the enemy on three sides.

"After severe fighting we captured twenty guns besides horses and carriages.

"The general reserve corps advanced along the Liao Yang road, the enemy fleeing before them toward Veng-Huang-Cheng (Feng-Huang-Cheng.)

"The booty captured includes large quantities of arms and ammunition.

"An officer captured says the commanders of both army divisions were wounded.

Feng Guan Cheng, whither the Russians have retreated, and which will in all probability be the scene of the next engagement, is a large town, strongly fortified, situated among hills. It is about 30 miles northwest of Kiulien Cheng, and is protected in a measure by a small branch of Tsuoho river. The town is on the Seoul-Peking road, thus affording the Japanese an excellent marching way. The road crosses two small streams, the bridges of which the Russians may be expected to destroy.

If the Japanese follow up their advantage fighting may be resumed within two or three days.

Feng Huan Cheng is about 100 miles along the roadway, from Liao-Cheng and about 140 miles from Mukden. The Japs have thus a long way yet to travel before attempting to capture the Manchurian capital.

JAPANESE VICTORY COMPLETE.

London, May 2.—(Bulletin)—The Seoul, Korea, correspondent of the Central News wires that the Japanese victory of the Yalu yesterday was most complete. After the Japanese charge, he says, the Russian lines were thrown into confusion and retreated in disorder.

The Japanese have now secured a firm hold on the Manchurian side of the Yalu river.

REPORT OF NAVAL CO-OPERATION

London, May 2.—(Bulletin)—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister at London, this morning issued the report of the captain of the gunboat Maya, which acted in conjunction with the land forces of the Japanese in yesterday's attack on the Russian line along the Yalu. This report, which to a degree, confirms the report that Antung has been burned by the Russians, follows:

"On May 1 a detachment consisting of the Maya, the Uji and some torpedo boats, ascended the Yalu and bombarded the enemy. While the detachment was returning the enemy's artillery suddenly attacked our torpedo boats, which silenced the enemy after 30 minutes severe engagement. All returned to Yungampo. There were no casualties.

"Our armed launches reached Antung the same morning and repulsed the enemy's infantry and artillery after thirty minutes of sharp fighting. Fire was seen rising from the town. A native said the enemy had been from Antung after setting it afire.

STORY OF THE VICTORY.

Tokyo, May 2, 7 a. m.—After five days of fighting, largely with artillery, the first Japanese army, under General Kuroki, has forced a crossing of the Yalu river and today, with a gallant infantry charge covering a frontage of four miles, it drove the Russians from Chiu Tien Cheng and the heights on the right bank of the Iho (or Aida) river, which enters the Yalu from the north almost opposite Wiju. The Japanese turned the left flank of the Russian position and in the battle of today they swept away the new front interposed by the Russians to check their onward movement.

The present position of the Japanese is a dominating one, and they may force the abandonment of the defense erected by the Russians at Antung and other points lower down the river. General Kuroki began the movement on Tuesday by ordering a detachment of the Imperial Guards division to seize the island of Kintello, which is situated below Wiju.

The detachment of the Imperial Guards met with some resistance but it succeeded in clearing the enemy out and occupied Kintello Island. The Russians abandoned the Island of Kintello when attacked by the detachment of the Second division.

The losses of the Imperial Guard are not accurately known. On Wednesday and Thursday the Russians bombarded Wiju but it was ineffectual. A Japanese party was sent to reconnoiter along the left bank of the Yalu which met and defeated a small detachment of Russians. The Czar's artillery resumed the bombardment of Wiju on Friday, the Japs failing to reply. On Saturday the Twelfth Japanese division prepared to cross the Yalu, under cover of artillery fire, the guns of the Russians keeping up a continuous fire, as the division fought its way to the point where a crossing was to be made.

A bridge across the main stream of the Yalu river, just above Wiju, was completed at 8 o'clock Saturday night and the Imperial guards immediately began crossing. They advanced and occupied the hills back of Kosan, facing the Russian position on the right bank of the river. All Saturday night regiment after regiment of Japanese soldiers poured across the bridge and at-a late hour Saturday night General Kuroki telegraphed to the general staff of the army:

"I will attack the enemy on May 1 at dawn."

True to his promise, General Kuroki at daylight yesterday centered all his artillery on the Russian position between Chiu Tien Cheng and Yoshoko. To this fire the Russians made reply with all their batteries.

At 7 o'clock in the morning the Russian battery at Yoshoko was silenced and half an hour later General Kuroki ordered his line, stretching for four miles, to attack. The Japanese infantry, on the word of command, charged across the Iho, wading that stream breast deep, and began storming the heights at 8:15 o'clock.

At 9 o'clock they had swept the Russian line back across the plateau. No report has been received in Tokyo concerning the losses sustained by the Japanese in the fighting of today. It is believed that these losses were heavy, particularly during the infantry charge.

The reports of the fighting which have been received here do not indicate whether the Russians retired down the river or in the direction of Feng Huan Cheng, on the road to Liao Yang.

JAPANESE OFFICIAL REPORT.

Tokyo, May 2.—7 a. m.—A report from General Kuroki, covering yesterday's fighting, says:

"The Russians made two stands. The enemy's strength included all of the Third Division, two regiments of the Sixth Division, one cavalry brigade, about forty quick-firing guns and eight machine guns.

"We have taken twenty-eight quick-firing guns, many rifles, much ammunition, more than twenty officers and many non-commissioned officers and men as prisoners.

"I am informed that Major Kashtalinsky, commander of the Third East Siberian Rifles Brigade, and Lieutenant General Salsulitch, commander of the Second Siberian Army Corps, were wounded.

"Our casualties number about 700, and the Russian loss is more than 800."

RUSSIAN STORY OF REVERSES.

St. Petersburg, May 1.—The general staff account of the operations on the Yalu river today is as follows:

"At 4 o'clock this morning Japanese field batteries, with 47 guns, opened a terrific fire on our position at Turenchen and on our troops posted near Potielinsky.

"The overwhelming superiority of the Japanese in artillery and the heavy losses their fire inflicted on our troops occupying these positions made it clear to General Salsulitch that it was impossible to hold Turenchen. Consequently the troops were ordered to retire from Turenchen while still holding the Potielinsky road.

"When General Salsulitch dispatched his telegram the Russian troops were retiring in good order from Turenchen and Schakheday to their second position, and the battle was continuing at Potielinsky and Tchin Gu."

CAPTURED THE STRONGHOLD.

Tokyo, May 1.—3 p. m.—The Japanese today captured Chiu Tien Cheng, 10 miles north of Antung, which is regarded as the key to the Russian position on the right bank of the Yalu river. It is understood that the Russians will retreat to Feng Huan Cheng, which is on the road to Liao Yang.

Tokyo, May 2.—11 a. m.—The Russians have been forced to abandon Antung. They burned the town and retreated to Feng Huan Cheng.

The Japanese now control the estuary of the Yalu.

RUSSIAN DEFEAT

An Epoch in World's History, Says a London Paper.

London, May 2.—"The silence which has hung over the land campaign is broken at last by the news which marks an epoch in the military history of the world," is the sentence by which the Daily Telegraph commences an article, which continues as follows:

"Russia, at the hands of the new Power in the far East, has suffered the greatest defeat that has ever befallen her arms upon Asiatic soil since Yermak, the Cossack, crossed the Urals.

"Japan has pierced the Manchurian frontier, shattered Khoropatin's position upon the Yalu at the first blow, and seized one of the strategic keys of the whole military situation. The territory occupied by her adversary is laid open to her invading armies, and at a moment when 30,000 of the Czar's troops are in retreat before the Altkado's forces, Russia awakes to the fact that she has equally miscalculated her prospects on land and sea.

"This is a great event, but it is probably but a prelude to a greater. Since her first repulse before the slopes of Pleona Russia has known no such reverses as that which has been inflicted upon her in the struggle for the Yalu her present misfortune being more serious in every respect, since she failed there before a fortified position, but has now been driven out of one in spite of all the advantage conferred by modern weapons upon her defense."

BILL FOUND

ASSUMED RISK MEASURE LOST FOR A WEEK

Turns Up Folded in a Senate Message—State Depository Bill Was Also Lost.

Columbus, O., May 2.—Peace of mind was restored to the attaches of the executive office late Saturday afternoon, when the missing Williams' assumed risk bill was found, after being lost for more than a week.

The bill was found folded in a message from the senate announcing confirmation of some appointments by the governor, which was received at the office on last Monday. The bill had been searched for in the box containing messages from the senate accompanying bills passed and transmitted to the governor for signature, but no one had looked in the box containing messages announcing confirmations of appointments. In checking up these messages announcing confirmation of appointments, to see whether or not commissions had been issued to all the persons confirmed, the bill was found. In the rush of Monday, the closing day of the legislative session, it was evidently folded with the wrong senate message, and, therefore, filed in the wrong box.

At the same time it was given out that another important bill had been missing for several days, and had also turned up all right. This one was the state depository bill. Treasurer McKinnon, who is much interested in the measure, had inquired at the executive office Friday as to whether it had been signed or not and elicited the information that it had never been received there.

A search was instituted in the senate clerk's room—no record of its having ever been sent to the governor's office having been found—with the result that the measure was found with some other papers in the message clerk's desk. It had been carelessly overlooked.

Governor Herrick was advised at St. Louis of the finding of the bills.

WAS 18 ON SUNDAY AND INHERITED MILLIONS

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 2.—Miss Louise Emery was 18 years old Sunday. Simultaneously she received title to an estate valued at $1,000,000. Miss Emery has been beset for years with offers of marriage even though efforts have been made to keep the fact of her wealth concealed.

Miss Emery's father was A. B. Emery, one of the original proprietors of the Silver King mine in Park City, Utah, in which Senator Thomas Kearns is interested.

CHILD'S STRANGE MALADY.

Utica, O., May 2.—It is reported that one of Mr. Benedict's children in Utica is afflicted with the strange malady, known as Lander's paralysis, it being the same disease that caused the death of the Simpson child. The condition of the Simpson child is serious.

CRANK

With Loaded Revolver Entered Church

WHERE JOHN D. ROCKFELLER JR. TAUGHT CLASS

Twice Attempted to Interrupt the Young Millionaire.

RESTRAINED BY A DETECTIVE

Who Sat Near the Man During the Services—Said to be a Former Minister.

New York, May 2.—A crank with a loaded revolver in his pocket, caused a sensation at the meeting of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s bible class yesterday, but prompt action prevented any harm being done. The man, who was past middle age and seedy in appearance, is said to be a former Methodist minister. He was observed first when the young millionaire was about to enter the church. Stepping forward he tried to stop Mr. Rockefeller, but a friend got between them. Several members of the class gathered around the man and the fact that he had a revolver in his hip pocket was discovered. He insisted upon entering the class room, and was permitted to do so, but Detective Sergeant Tinker, who is assigned to the sessions of the class, took a seat next to the man.

Twice the former minister endeavored to speak to Mr. Rockefeller, but was restrained by the officer.

The Rev. R. P. Johnson, who had entered the class room, recognized the man as a former minister. Symptomatically expressed for him and Mrs. Rockefeller issued instructions to have an investigation made to learn if there is any hope of reclaiming the man. If there is, he will be cared for.

MILEAGE

SHOULD BE INTERCHANGEABLE ON ALL OHIO INTERURBANS.

Important meeting to Consider this Plan to be Held in Columbus, May 26.

Columbus, O., May 2.—Preparations are being made for holding in Columbus on the fourth Thursday in May the third monthly session of the Ohio Interurban Railway association, an organization comprising 35 of the leading interurban traction lines in this state.

It is believed that during the coming convention a definite plan will be determined upon relative to the adoption of an interchangeable coupon book which shall contain five-cent coupons to the amount of $12 and sell for $10 each, to be used on any or all of these interurban lines of the state belonging to the association.

Mr. Harrigan Favors Plan

General Manager J. R. Harrigan stated to an Advocate reporter Monday morning that he would attend the meeting in Columbus, he being a member of the association. Mr. Harrigan will favor the plan proposed for mileage books which will be interchangeable on all the electric lines in the state. He will oppose any movement to do away with the present mileage book system, however.

EXCITING RIDE.

Martinsburg, O., May 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bebout were the participants in an exciting ride here. The horse they were driving became frightened on the viaduct and ran of the occupants of the buggy having several narrow escapes before the animal was stopped.

CUBAN CUTTERS FIRE ON AMERICAN SCHOONER

Havana, May 2.—Cuban cutters fired upon and captured the American schooner Irene yesterday, claiming that she was poaching on the Behia Honda sponge reefs.

The captain of the schooner claims that she took her cargo on at the Isle of Pines and was enroute to Key West having put in at Bahia Honda for water. He protests that the Cubans fired three shots after he had hauled down his colors. The schooner was struck by several shots and damaged.

WATCH DOG

SECURELY LOCKED IN A CLOSET BY BURGLARS

Who Then Very Deliberately Ransack a Columbus Residence Securing Some Money and Jewels.

Columbus, O., May 2.—With the watch dog safely locked in a closet on the lower floor, housebreakers or key-workers successfully ransacked the home of A. D. Cohen, at 332 East Town street, Saturday afternoon, between the hours of 2 and 4:30 o'clock, and succeeded in locating $92 in cash, which they confiscated, along with several articles of jewelry, among which were two diamond stick pins. Members of the family were away from home in the afternoon, and when they returned about 5 o'clock, they found their pet black and tan dog locked in one of the down stairs closets. A later search of the place disclosed the money and articles missing. The house was entered by the skeleton key route, evidently, and the robbers took their time to make the search as complete as possible. It is probable that the dog barked and disturbed them, and he was shoved into a closet for safety.

SEATING CAPACITY

Of Democratic National Convention Hall at St. Louis Will Accommodate 9,500 Persons.

St. Louis, May 2.—The sub-committee of the National Democratic committee in charge of the arrangements for the National Democratic convention to be held here July 6 convened at its permanent headquarters in the Jefferson Hotel today. The members of the committee attending the meeting are Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo; J. G. Johnson, of Kansas; and D. J. Campau, of Detroit, assisted by C. A. Walsh, of Des Moines, Ia., secretary of the National committee, and W. E. DeFord, of Ottawa, Kan., assistant secretary.

It was stated during the meeting that the aggregate number of tickets to be issued for the convention would not exceed 9,500. For the press 750 seats will be reserved. None but working newspaper men will be permitted to occupy these seats.

The committee approved Mr. Schorer's suggestion to place a telephone in every state delegation, which will connect with a telephone on the main platform and will afford service to all parts of the hall. It also approves an additional number of telephones affording long-distance connections will be installed.

WELL SHOOTER

Cot Drunk and Endangered a Whole Town By Driving a Load of Nitro-glycerine Into a Tree.

Cochran, O., May 2.—A jay and a hundred quarts of nitro-glycerine were too much for the nerves of the village of Newcomerstown, east of here.

Parney Sullivan, a "shooter" from Seba, was driving a gallop over the town, an owl at his heels and stopped at Newcomerstown, not drunk, and drove his team at a gallop over the town.

The citizens were terrified, especially when Sullivan ran into a tree on the outskirts of town and threw a wheel. The wagon load of explosive was remarkably docile, however, but Sullivan was taken before the mayor and fined $27, while a guard of four cautious men watched the broken wagon.

Sullivan was compelled to make 11-own repairs and drive on, with a special guard at a safe distance to see that he did not turn in his tracks.

STRIKE

Of Machinists on Entire Santa Fe System

WENT INTO EFFECT ON MONDAY MORNING

Strike Order Was Followed by a Lockout.

CLOSING SHOPS OF WHOLE ROAD

President O'Connell of Machinists' Union, Says His Men Can Hold Out Indefinitely.

Washington, May 2.—(Bulletin)—A general strike of machinists on the Santa Fe system has been ordered by President O'Connell of International Association of Machinists, taking effect at 9 o'clock this morning, western time. It will affect directly 6,000 members of the association and may result in bringing out the boiler-makers, blacksmiths and coreworkers, these organizations having already under consideration the advisability of conducting a sympathetic strike.

In forecasting the probable extent of the strike, President O'Connell said 15,000 men would be affected, if the differences between the company and the men are protracted. The allied metal workers, tin and copper smiths, and the small army of helpers engaged in these trades are expected to quit work.

There is at present no prospect of the transportation department being crippled, except indirectly.

Third Vice President J. W. Kendrick, of the Santa Fe, who has charge of the repair and construction work, has expressed a determination to fight the strike to the finish.

He has a reputation of a strike breaker.

On the other hand, President O'Connell of the machinists, says his men will remain on strike indefinitely without hardship.

"The association's finances are the best of all the unions in the country," he said this morning. "We can carry the men for any length of time."

J. B. Burdshaw, and Thomas M. Wilson, vice presidents of the machinists, will be in charge of the strike at Topeka, Kansas, and Albuquerque, N. M., respectively, Mr. O'Connell staying in Washington.

LOCKOUT AS RESULT OF STRIKE.

Topeka, Kans., May 2.—Vice President Merrick has issued an order which closes the shops of the entire Santa Fe system temporarily, because two machinists ordered a strike on 8,000 miles of railroad, the Santa Fe system, 7,000 men being affected. General Manager Mudd said the lockout was to give the men time to think over the situation calmly, and to prevent the execution of the secret orders of the union machinists to do as much damage in the shops as possible. He said the company was prepared for all emergencies and did not anticipate any violence.

The Government of New South Wales has effected an annual saving of $700,000 by retrenchment in the Works Department.

"My dear, we must begin to practice Home Economy, and to start it I'll just take hold and lay this carpet;

no use paying money out for such a trifling job; and since I've cleaned it I might as well lay it, and I'll just begin right in this corner. It's no great trick to clean a carpet, or lay it, either."

"Oh, but you have to come up, you know; uh, ah, ah, ah-a-a."

"Well, I declare, my hands are all dirt. Wonder where it all came from; and just look at that rip, and that, and that. Why it's all rips! I must have pounded it pretty hard. Wonder what's the matter anyway!"

"Ouch, Oo, my thumb! Oh, Oo! I've stuck tacks in my hands and knees and pounded my thumb all on account of this half-cleaned and worse laid carpet. I'll send it to FRANK MYLIUS, CARPET CLEANING WORKS next time or I'll know why."

"My dear, don't you think we will save time and money and get a more satisfactory job by sending for FRANK MYLIUS, the Carpet Cleaner, Fitter and Layer? He does the finest work that can be produced and for the least money. All work is guaranteed first-class or on pay."

Regular meeting of Sam Williams command tonight at 7-30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

A Little Son.
A little son has come to bless the home of John Conley, the Baltimore & Ohio engineer.

Vegetation Starting.
The recent rains have started vegetation and brightened the prospect for spring, for which we have been anxiously waiting for the past month.

A New Arrival.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steinman, at their home, 79 Jefferson street, an eleven and a half pound boy. Mr. Steinman is being congratulated.

Renfrew Dean Very Ill.
Renfrew Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dean, was taken seriously ill at Cleveland Saturday with appendicitis. His parents are at his bedside.

Preached at Lexington.
The Rev. Henry Fulton of this city, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in Lexington on Sunday. Mr. Fulton was formerly pastor of the church for six years.

Baccalaureate Sermon.
Rev. L. S. Boyce delivered the baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class of the Martinsburg High school, Sunday evening. His pulpit here was filled by Rev. W. A. Berger of the German Presbyterian church.

Automobiles Arrive.
Mr. C. R. Wyeth received today from the factory at Cambridge, Mass., a car load of Crestmobiles, three of which have already been sold. One goes to Mr. H. B. Rusler, of Johnstown, one to Dr. C. L. Wyeth, and one to Edward Kibler.

May Festival.
A number of Newark people are making their arrangements to attend the May Festival in Cincinnati this year, which promises to be one of the most magnificent musical attractions in the history of the Queen City. The festival deserves the attention of all lovers of good music. They are famous the world over.

Flocking to Newark.
Albert Smith and Homer Kenney of Marengo, are the latest additions to the Marengo colony in Newark. The people of Morrow, Knox and Muskingum counties are fairly flocking to Newark. Newark already has the name of being a much better town than Zanesville.

Small Fire at B. & O.
A small fire occurred at the B. & O. shops in the foundry building, Sunday at noon. No damage was done. The blaze is supposed to have originated in the cupola from a spark. The Central and East End fire departments responded to the alarm, but the fire was extinguished with a few buckets of water.

Serious Fire Averted.
The inconveniences usual found during house-cleaning time were the cause of what might have been a serious fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Matticks on West Church street, Saturday morning. The kitchen was torn up and the cooking was being done on a hot plate in an adjoining room. A rubbercoat, hanging near the hot plate, caught fire and before the blaze was discovered the wood-work had caught. The fire was extinguished with a few buckets of water.

Newark's Street Car Service.
A persistent rumor to the effect that the Newark & Granville Railway Company will shortly abandon some of their lines in Newark has been circulated for the past few days. It is said that some of the street lines in Newark have not been patronized as they should be and these lines may be discontinued.

The Newark & Granville company has always maintained one of the best systems in the state and if people desire to keep the convenience of a good system they should see that the various street lines are patronized.

FREE TRIP

TO THE ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR, THE PRIZE

Which Was Won by A. S. Stephan and A. F. Connell in Y. M. C. A. Membership Contest

The Y. M. C. A. World's Fair contest was brought to a conclusion Saturday night at 10 o'clock amid considerable excitement. The two leading teams were neck and neck all during the contest and the result was in doubt until the very minute when the contest closed. The teams composed of A. F. Connell and A. S. Stephan and Homer Sparks and Rollin F. Williams were far in the lead of all other teams and the contest was between the two pairs.

At 10 o'clock it was announced that the former team had won by a small number of points, being credited with 529 points against 508 for the Sparks-Williams team.

The winning team will be given free transportation to St. Louis and one dollar a day for six days to each man as expenses. The second team will be given free transportation to St. Louis. All other teams that scored ten points will be given one dollar for expenses for each ten points. Each dollar turned in on Y. M. C. A. membership counted as one point.

The affair was one of the greatest successes ever achieved by the local Y. M. C. A., the total number of new members secured by the contestants being 272. The entire membership is now 862, which is the highest mark yet reached by the association in Newark.

A PUBLIC OFFER

To All Persons in Newark Who Wish to Gain Flesh.

Some people do not need to gain flesh, but many must before health can be restored to a normal condition.

Are you thin? Do you require more flesh to be really well and strong? If you do I want you to commence a course of treatment now with Vinol, and I will agree that if after you have taken what I consider should be enough to restore your normal weight, and it has not succeeded, I will pay for all the medicine you have taken myself.

Now you will agree that I would ruin myself financially if I should make such a bold offer on an article of no merit, and I must know what I am talking about, or I would not guarantee the action of any medicine like that.

A prominent physician recently said: "The best way to gain good, solid, firm flesh is to take Vinol, for in it you get all the curative, flesh-making and strength-creating properties contained in that grand old remedy, cod liver oil, without the nauseating oil itself, and the weakest stomach can retain it. Thin people are usually weak and ailing, and Vinol is what they need."

Dr. Z. F. Highsmith, of Sumter, S. C., writes: "While taking Vinol I gained ten pounds; it restored appetite and strength."

Mr. E. O. Taft, of Boonton, N. J., writes: "Vinol increased my weight eight pounds in a short time and made me well."

Mr. Henry Dickens, of Nashville, Tenn., writes: "Vinol increased my weight 17 pounds and cured me. I could not take cod liver oil, as it disagreed with me and upset my stomach."

C. G. Johnson, of Burlington, Vt., writes: "Vinol has restored my lost weight, and I have gained 20 pounds. Old-fashioned cod liver oil upset my stomach, but Vinol made me well."

So we might go on quoting from hundreds of such letters, and it is for this reason I know what Vinol will do. You see it acts first upon the stomach, creates an appetite for good, wholesome food, and strengthens and tones up the digestive organs so the food is properly assimilated. Rich, red blood is sent coursing through every vein; solid, firm flesh is created wherever it is needed and emaciated figures, hollow cheeks and sunken eyes are soon a thing of the past. Vinol makes firm, healthy flesh, and the weak strong, because it strengthens every organ in the body to do its work.

Try it on our guarantee. Frank D. Hall, druggist.

Cosliest Congress in the Nation's History.

The unparalleled extravagance of the session of Congress just adjourned is just beginning to be understood by the public. In small things some pretense was made toward economy by the Republican leaders. In some directions appropriations were carefully pared down. In others, where appropriations were justified and urgently demanded for legitimate objects, none at all were allowed. Yet the total appropriations for the session amount up to the tremendous total of $781,000,000—with one or two exceptions the largest in the history of the Government in time of peace, and seldom exceeded even during the Civil war when the Nation had hundreds of thousands of soldiers in the field and was conducting one of the most costly wars witnessed by mankind.

As Representative Livingston, the ranking minority member of the House committee on appropriations, says in his review of its work, it was a session devoted exclusively to spending money, and in this respect it was a great success. Hardly a dollar was given for the construction of new buildings, only $3,000,000 were allowed for improving rivers and harbors, no other schemes for international improvements of any sort were provided for, yet the totals reached the stunning figures given above, and even they do not tell the whole story of extravagance.

The Democratic State convention of New Hampshire adopted a platform demanding tariff revision, the control of the trusts and a halt in the march toward imperialism, and leaving the choice of the presidential candidate to the wisdom of the delegates. At the same time the convention elected delegates who are understood to be favorable to the nomination of Judge Parker.

The action of the governor of Texas in preventing the lynching of a negro, who on April 21 murdered a white girl, by the prompt use of a sufficient military force, has been amply vindicated. On Friday the murderer was tried and convicted, and he was sentenced to be hanged on Monday, having waived all rights to a stay of execution. This triumph of the legal machinery of justice over the violence of lynch law will doubtless have a good effect throughout the whole great State of Texas, and should serve as an object lesson for the rest of the country.

The latest accounts of the sinking of the Japanese transport by the Russian "Vladivostok" fleet reduce the loss of life considerably. Now only 73 persons are said to have drowned. The balance having escaped in boats or been captured by the Russians. The Japanese account varies somewhat from the Russian in stating that the men on the transport at the command of their officers resisted the Russian. Both accounts agree that such resistance was made, which fact relieves the Russians from the ignominy with which they were at first invested. At the same time the moral effect of the bravery of the Japanese goes far to offset the success of the Russians in sinking the vessel.

In an article contributed by John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, to a magazine appears the following: "It is sometimes claimed that no strike can be won without the use of physical force. I do not believe this to be true, but if it is, it were better that the strike be lost than that it succeed through violence and the commission of outrages." Mr. Mitchell further declares that the attitude of trades unionists toward the law "should be that of all good citizens." There is no doubt this is sound doctrine, and the workmen generally will be greatly benefited in the long run by following this advice of their leader.

HURST WINS

The Tuscarawas Democratic Endorsement for Congress and Will Name His Own Delegates.

New Philadelphia, O., May 2.—The Democratic county convention met here on Saturday and nominated a full county ticket of popular men, the prevailing sentiment being to secure candidates who can carry Tuscarawas county this fall.

There was a heated contest as to who should secure the endorsement as Tuscarawas county's candidate for Congress in this district. It has always been the custom in this county for the candidate thus endorsed to have the privilege of selecting his own delegates. As all the other counties in the district save one have adopted the same plan this year there was a demand that Tuscarawas should adhere to its long established custom. There were several candidates, but ex-State Senator J. E. Hurst earned the majority of the convention. He received the endorsement and named his own delegates to represent Tuscarawas county in the Congressional Convention.

The Kansas City platform was sprung for endorsement, but it was left on the table.

WAYNE COUNTY

Democrats Endorse Ohlinger for Congress—Names His Delegates.

Wooster, Ohio, May 2.—The hottest primary field in years by the Democrats of Wayne county, took place Saturday. Interest was centered in the race for the congressional delegation between John S. Adair and Louis P. Ohlinger. The latter won by less than 100. Other candidates chosen were: Sheriff, Armstrong Brown; commissioner, John H. Villard; clerk of courts, Christian J. Harrold; infirmario director, E. D. Ammon; coroner, W. H. Fifer; surveyor, Henry M. Knapp. Candidates for city offices were also chosen.

By an understood arrangement and agreement the candidate who received the highest vote at the primaries was given the right to name his own delegates to the congressional convention.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF LOCAL OPTION LAW

To be Tested in the Courts—Legal Entanglements Developing in Columbus Must be Settled Before the Law Can be Enforced.

Columbus, May 2.—When the Brannock bill passed the Senate, one Senator remarked on the floor: "It's so unconstitutional that you can drive a four-horse team through any one of its provisions."

That is precisely what is being done to it in Columbus.

Many legal perplexities and protracted proceedings in court are certain to follow the filing of petitions with Mayor Jeffrey by those parties acting under this district option law.

The hearing given Saturday noon by City Solicitor Butler to attorneys for these filing petitions, disclosed that whatever step the mayor may take suits in court are certain to follow, either on behalf of the wets or drys, and that the law itself is a hopeless tangle.

Friday night there were filed with Solicitor Butler two requests to enjoin Mayor Jeffrey from ordering elections in any of the districts mapped out by the petitions filed with him. One of these was filed by Nathan Gumble on behalf of Samuel Blumenthal, a "wet" advocate, and the other by Attorney Harvey Jones on behalf of William Hutchinson, a "dry" adherent.

The petition filed by Nathan Gumble declares the Brannock law unconstitutional and that therefore any election held under the provisions of this act, would be a waste of public funds. The other petition filed contends that the signed petitions themselves do not comply with the provisions of the Brannock law, and that therefore no election ought to be ordered under them.

At the hearing Saturday noon Nathan Gumble and John J. Chester spoke on behalf of the "wets," and Attorney Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league, Harvey Jones and D. V. Sharp on behalf of the "drys."

Solicitor Butler declared before the arguments were opened that if a petition were shown to be positively bad on its face he would advise the mayor to refuse to act under it; that if it were shown that it was reasonably certain that the petition, or any one of them, were good, he would advise the mayor to order an election and that if there was much doubt either way, he would himself institute a friendly action to enjoin the mayor from acting under the petition in order to get the matter into the courts for a decision.

Nathan Gumble declared in his arguments that the law is unconstitutional in a host of respects, and he proceeded to point out a few in answer to Wayne B. Wheeler's previous objection to a petition that it contained names of persons not "qualified voters," because the names were not registered.

Mr. Gumble suggested that perhaps these parties had become of age since the last registration dates or might have moved newly into that district, and that if the Brannock law attempted to put such a test to ascertain a qualified voter, it was unconstitutional because it took away from a citizen his constitutional right to vote. Mr. Gumble then also contended that the law exempts no district from an election, because it provides first for the election, and then for the exemptions, meaning, Mr. Gumble asserted, that after a district had perhaps been voted dry, the business block in this district could still be exempted. This attitude is clearly a contention for the wets that the business districts can vote at these elections.

"These business districts," declared Mr. Gumble, "are exempt from the operation of the enforcement of the law, and not exempt from the right to vote under the law, for the legislature can not confer on one man the right to vote and deny it to another."

The arguments of the other attorneys revealed still a broader variance of views and the inconsistencies of the different sections of the law with each other were pointed out in detail.

GREAT MILITARY CAMP

Ohio's National Guard Will Engage in All the Manoeuvres Incident to Actual Warfare When They Go Into Camp Next August in Hocking Valley.

Columbus, May 2.—When the two divisions of the Ohio National Guard go into camp in August, unless present plans are changed and the guard unites with the regular army for maneuvers in Virginia, the full strength of the Ohio establishment will be equally divided and placed in two camps, located some seven miles apart, in the Hocking Valley, treating each other as hostile and active foes. It is proposed to engage in all the maneuvers incident to active warfare, and in this respect the training will surpass that heretofore had by the troops working under the army methods. The members of the two divisions will not see each other except as they come into contact in the working out of the various problems of war.

The scene of the bloodless conflict will be in a wild country, fifty per cent. of which is covered by timber, there being between the proposed location of the two camps not to exceed seven houses. Probably in no other part of the state is a wilder tract to be found, and for that reason there will be little in the way of damages to crops or property that the state will be called upon to settle for. The two divisions will reach their respective camps in all probability by different lines of railroad, so that they will not even see each other en route to the battle ground.

One division will be located in a camp to be pitched some 14 miles east of Logan, while the other will be about a mile west of Glenster. The tributaries to Sunday and Monday creek will be the scene of the war, down among the coal fields. It will not be necessary for the attacking force to march out from a common camp and then return over the same ground to work out the military problems, but starting from their headquarters each will go out with the element of uncertainty before them, not knowing either the position or the strength of the army they are to meet. Military men are emphatic in their statements that this will be a great improvement over the methods employed at West Point, Ky., last summer, and the benefits are expected to be many.

The country is so rough that it will place all the officers on their mettle. Part of the ground will not permit the use of artillery, part will not be accessible to cavalry, but over all of it infantry may maneuver. As the full establishment of the guard is to be in service there will be thinking for those who will carry the weight of the responsibility. Not only will there be the three branches of the service mentioned but the battalion of engineers will be divided between the two camps, and the signal companies will also participate, part in each division. There will be hard work and plenty of it, but the training will be invaluable and in case of need Ohio's soldiers will be found much the better for it. For once there will be no rickshacking about the annual encampment service. It will be stern reality, minus of course, the trappings which accompany a war.

The two armies will be under the command of the two brigadier generals, McMakin and Speaks, each with his respective division and such other forces as may be apportioned to equalize the respective armies in strength. General McMakin's brigade will consist of the First, Second, Third and Sixth regiments of infantry, commanded respectively by Colonels Charles F. Hake, of Cincinnati; Colonel Edward S. Bryant, Bloomdale; Colonel Harry E. Mead, Dayton; Colonel Lloyd W. Howard, Toledo. While the Ninth battalion (the colored troops) belong in this brigade, it is possible that they may be divided between the two brigades. The battalion is commanded by Major John C. Fulton of Cleveland. There are companies in Columbus, Springfield, Xenia and Cleveland. The Cleveland Troop of cavalry, Captain Wm. M. Schofield, will be with General McMakin's force, as will half of the Cleveland battalion of engineers, commanded by Major John R. McQuigg. The first company of the signal corps, Captain Holland C. Webster of Toledo, will also see service with this brigade. The medical department will be apportioned equitably.

Brigadier General John C. Speaks of Columbus, will have the Second Brigade, composed of the Fourth, Fifth, Seventh and Eighth regiments. The commanding officers are respectively, Colonel Charles S. Ammel, Columbus; Colonel Charles X. Zimmerman, of Cleveland; Colonel Carmi A. Thompson, Ironton; Colonel Edward Vollrath, Bucyrus. Troop B, Captain John Baird, Columbus; Light Battery H, Captain Harold M. Bush, Columbus, and Signal company, No. 2, Captain Lewis M. Jaquith, Columbus, will also be under General Speaks' jurisdiction.

A day will be consumed in getting to the battlefield and a day in breaking camp and returning, so that if the full ten days are allotted to the encampment, there will be eight full days for the maneuvers.

The officers are expected to get together each evening and discuss the problems which are worked out on the field. For this purpose it is probable that a train will be chartered to carry them from one camp to the other under a "flag of truce." It will be impracticable to meet on neutral ground, as there would be no accommodations and then it would require two trains to handle the parties, whereas under proposed arrangements one train would do the work, saving both time and money. The outline promises to be the most successful in the way of practical benefits of any encampment ever held by the guard.

The referees will, it is expected, be regular army officers, with probably Major General Charles Dick added. Governor Herrick and other high military authorities of the state are expected to be present in the camps during a part of the time at least.

DESERTED HER HUSBAND

Mrs. C. F. Dye of Granville Left Home Tuesday and Prominent Grocer Has Been Unable to Find Any Trace of Her Since—Granville Sensation.

Granville, O., May 2.—A sad domestic sensation has developed in the unusually quiet and serene village of Granville, which is usually devoid of sensations, that has shaken the old town to its very foundations.

The sensation includes the sudden and unexplained disappearance of a young wife; the breaking up of a happy home and the almost ruin of one of Granville's best known and most highly respected citizens, Mr. C. F. Dye, who has, for the past two years very successfully carried on the grocery business in Granville.

About five years ago Mr. C. F. Dye, who formerly lived in Morgan county, was married to Miss Secile Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris, of near Beverly, Ohio, who was classed among the most accomplished and charming young women of that vicinity.

During the first years of their married life the young couple lived happily together, and no words of dissension ever occurred to mar their happiness.

About two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Dye removed to Granville, where Mr. Dye purchased the old Jackson grocery and has successfully conducted the business ever since, and to an Advocate representative Mr. Dye stated that he was getting along finely and that everything was satisfactory. For some time, however, he said, their married life had not been of the pleasantest, frequent dissensions arising to mar their happiness. On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Dye disappeared from her home, without informing anyone of where she was going, or what her intentions were. Mr. Dye paid no attention to the matter at first, thinking that she had left for a short visit with some of her friends, but on Wednesday he received a letter from his wife, dated on Tuesday, which had been mailed at Newark, informing him that she was going away and that she never intended to return. Mr. Dye thinking that her mother knew something about the matter, took the first train for Beverly, but found that her mother knew nothing whatever about the matter, except that she had received a letter from her daughter stating that she was going to leave Mr. Dye, and that it was her intention never to return.

Mr. Dye says that he then returned to Newark, and upon investigation learned that she had her trunks checked from Granville to Newark and then to Columbus, where all trace of her was lost. He also learned that she had drawn a considerable amount of money belonging to her from one of the Newark banks.

There have been all sorts of stories floating about regarding the matter, nine-tenths of which Mr. Dye claims are false. Mr. Dye, who has the sympathy of all the people of Granville in his trouble, is all broken up over the matter, and has disposed of his grocery to Messrs. William Chrysler and John Owens.

Mr. Dye says that he will make a statement of the matter over his own signature in a few days.

ATTACKED

AND VERY SERIOUSLY BEATEN WITH A CLUB

Stephen Nesley of Near Kirkersville, the Victim of the Anger of P. B. Evans

Kirkersville, May 2.—A quarrel of serious results occurred just south of Kirkersville Monday morning. Stephen Nesley was beaten with a club and seriously injured by P. B. Evans, who lives about three miles northeast of Kirkersville.

Mr. Nesley resides on a farm about one-half mile south of this place. It is understood that Evans has made a practice of crossing through the fields of Mr. Nesley on his way to work and that the latter had repeatedly forbidden him to trespass on his land. Evans recently rented some land south of the Nesley farm and rather than go by way of the public roads has cut through Mr. Nesley's fields which have been recently planted.

It is stated that Mr. Nesley went to the place Monday morning, and when Evans started to cross the field ordered him off. After some dispute regarding the matter Evans attacked Mr. Nesley with a club. The latter was seriously injured and is under a physician's care.

Evans will probably be placed under arrest at once.

INQUISITOR

OF TAXES IN MUSKINGUM COUNTY WAS DISCHARGED

By the Commissioners Notwithstanding Decision of Circuit Court in Charter's Favor, Saturday.

Zanesville, O., May 2.—In the case of W. F. Charters against the County Commissioners of Muskingum county, Judges Voorhees, McCarty and Walters, of the circuit court, rendered their decision Saturday in favor of the plaintiff. The decision was to the effect that the county commissioners had no power to discharge the tax inquisitor, which position Mr. Charters has held for some time, until the three years for which he was appointed have expired. The decision orders the county auditor to re-instate Mr. Charters as tax inquisitor of Muskingum county.

Following the action of the court the commissioners, county treasurer and auditor got together and officially discharged Mr. Charters as inquisitor for the county.

J. B. JONES IN TAX CASE.

Hon. J. B. Jones of Newark, appeared for Mr. Charters and of course, was much elated over the victory for his client, which news was told him by the Advocate. He appeared alone against an array of legal talent, who represented the defendant Auditor L. E. Brelsford, which included the best lawyers in Zanesville.

Mr. Jones further said that the decision of the court makes any action taken by the county commissioners negatory, as they have no authority under the decision which plainly lays down the fact that Mr. Charters must be recognized as the tax inquisitor until his contract runs out.

LADDER

USED BY DETECTIVES TO RAID GAMBLING ROOM

Seventeen Players Caught Red-Handed in a Room in the Hotel Hinkle, Columbus

Columbus, May 2.—By the aid of a ladder secured from the fire department, detectives at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night, gained entrance to the third floor of the Hinkle hotel building, at the rear, and raided the gambling rooms operated by W. J. Murray, capturing seventeen players red-handed.

Some time ago this place was raided, but because of the habitues making their escape through a dumb waiter leading to the first floor, but few were captured. Believing a game to be in operation, and not to be outdone as on the former occasion, the ladder was brought into use.

The room was entered through a window at one corner of the room, which looks from the lavatory, and the door from the toilet was suddenly opened, and the three officers burst in upon the players, taking them completely by surprise, as a number of games were in progress. The doors were at once locked, and all means of exit shut off. The patrol was then summoned and the 17 men, including W. G. Murray, who had charge of the place, together with some of the paragonnalia, were taken to the station house.

The whole party was released 45 minutes after arriving at the jail, Murray paying $100 bail, and all the others $10 each.

BOURKE COCKRAN

More Famous in Coshocton as a Mule Breaker Than a Political or Forensic Orator.

Coshocton, Ohio, May 2.—Bourke Cockran's recent outburst of eloquence in the national house, in colloquy with John Dalzell, brings to light the fact that he is a cousin of John Portnes of this city, and when visiting here in 1874 made a reputation as a city bred youth breaking a rule, noted for its obstinacy.

Young Cockran was then teaching school in Westchester county, New York and came here to spend his vacation.

One Deacon Meek, now long dead, possessed a raw boned mule that had grown chesty over the fact that no bridle had ever soiled its life and no rider had ever straddled its back. It was a vicious creature and was known for miles around.

Cockran determined to break the animal, and springing suddenly upon it one day, clung to it like a cat in spite of the fact that for nearly two hours it cavorted and dashed over the farm.

He exhausted it, got a hickory club, and rode the mule into town, with half the country side cheering at its very safe heels. It was a sensation that has never been forgotten, and Cockran's fame is more largely dependent, locally at least, upon that episode, than upon his subsequent eloquence.

MAY QUEEN

Crowned in St. Francis de Sales Church in a Very Pretty Ceremony Sunday Night.

The crowning of the "May Queen"—the statue of the Blessed Virgin—was participated in by sixty girls, dressed in pure white, at St. Francis de Sales church Sunday night. Father McBurnett of Danville, the future pastor of the church to be opened in the West End, preached an eloquent sermon. Rev. Father R. M. O'Brien, pastor of St. Francis de Sales church, today stated that he had secured the necessary property in the East End on which to erect a church.

MERCURY A POOR CRUTCH.

Experience is a dear teacher, as those who pin their faith to Mercury find out sooner or later. This powerful poison combined with Potash, is the treatment generally prescribed for Contagious Blood Poison, but failure and disappointment is the inevitable result. These minerals drive in the pores and eruptions, and apparently the disease is gone and the patient believes the cure permanent, but soon learns better when the old symptoms return almost as soon as the treatment is left off. You must either keep the system saturated with mercury or endure the tortures of sore mouth, ulcerated throat and the mortification that one naturally feels when the body is covered with disgusting sores, rashes, copper-colored spots and other aggravating symptoms of this vile disease.

Mercury and Potash are poor crutches, and their use eventually breaks down the constitution, ruins the digestion and cause the bones to decay. S. S. S., a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys every atom of the deadly virus, overcomes the bad effects of the mercury and cleanses the blood and system so thoroughly that never after are any signs of the disease seen. Nor is the taint ever transmitted to others.

We will send free our book on Contagious Blood Poison, which is interesting and contains full directions for treating yourself at home. Medical advice or any special information desired given without charge.

BARNUM & BAILEY'S PHENOMENAL PERFORMANCES

The aerial and acrobatic feats with the Barnum & Bailey Show are of a superior order of merit. Besides being of extreme daring and novelty

TWO TWINKLING STARS SEEN WITH BARNUM & BAILEY.

They are all executed by champions. While the general character of these almost phenomenal performances is the same as hitherto exhibited there are introduced a number of unique and extraordinary displays, entitling the intrepid performers to be considered and unquestioned kings of all aerial artists. There are a dozen champion male and female equestrians also, so that the visitors to the show are assured of seeing the best possible entertainment. The show will be here Tuesday, May 31.

The Inquisitive Child.

"Papa," said the little boy who had been taken to the country for the first time, "if I throw stones into the trees what will the birds do?"

"They will fly."

"Then what will the fly do?"

This questioning was carried on well into the evening. At last the little boy was made ready for bed, although he continued to ask questions. Finally the father said:

"Now, go to sleep. I'll talk to you in the morning."

"What would the horse do if I jumped on him?"

"I'll talk to you in the morning, son."

"What would the cow do if I gave her an apple?"

"I'll talk to you in the morning."

This was repeated for a long time. Then the boy murmured:

"Papa."

"Well?"

"When you talk to me in the morning, what will you say?"—Chicago Tribune.

Old Enough to Curl Her Own Hair.

Private John Allen tells of a Methodist preacher in Alabama who chanced not long ago to discover that his daughter was making use of the curling iron.

"Daughter," solemnly began the clergyman, "I regret to find you given over to this vanity. If the Lord had intended that your hair should be curly, rest assured he would himself have made it so."

"Well, dad," responded the girl, "he did when I was young. Now that I've grown up I suppose he thinks I can look out for myself."—New York Press.

Her Choice.

Mrs. Philo Sophical—You're late for dinner, dear. Where have you been?

Mr. P. S.—At the club. Had a rattling good time.

"What doing?"

"Shaking dice."

"Well, dear, if you must be amused I'd rather you'd have a rattling than a 'corking' time anyway."—Detroit Free Press.

Knowledge.

"Knowledge is the great thing to be sought for after all," said the studious man.

"I should say it is," answered Senator Sorghum. "Many a man makes a terrible mistake in demanding cold cash instead of accepting valuable information as to how the market is going to go."—Washington Star.

Counterfeiter.

Finally they broke in upon the mysterious man.

"You make counterfeit money," they exclaimed, giving voice at once to their worst suspicions.

"No, counterfeit wealth," replied the man, and showed them, in proof of his assertion, that his only implement was a tucker.—Puck.

"There are too many doctors."

"Too many?"

THE HALL OF FAME.

THE HALL OF FAME.

Arthur Hall, a Winthrop (Me.) barber, has a very cumbersome and heavy old fashioned mustache in his shop which bears date of 1732.

Edward W. Ames, appointed secretary of the United States legation at Santiago, Chile, is thirty years old and a graduate of Harvard.

Representative H. L. Maynard of Virginia was presented with a loving cup by congressmen recently entertained at Jamestown.

Pope Pius has notified the Venice municipal council that he will be glad to contribute to the funds for the reconstruction of the campanile.

George Gould's recent trip of over 4,500 miles of his various railroads was made with one engine, the same man being at the throttle all the way.

Colonel William C. Gorgas of the army medical department will accompany the Panama commission and see to sanitary conditions along the canal strip.

Gustav Kohn of New Orleans has presented to Tulane university his priceless natural history collection, which comprises every living creature native to Louisiana, besides a scientific library of 1,000 valuable volumes.

Colonel Henry O. Kent of Lancaster, N. H., who was a classmate of Admiral George Dewey at Norwich Military university, has been chosen commander of the New Hampshire department of the Grand Army of the Republic.

President Eliot of Harvard, who has just turned seventy, is a fine example of what wholesome observance of laws of health will do for the physical man. He walks from six to ten miles every day and whenever possible takes a long bicycle ride before breakfast.

A silver manufacturing company in Meriden, Conn., had a loving cup made of some of a lot of silver that was lately stolen from it and presented the cup to Detective Henry J. Donnelly of New Haven, who recovered the property and arrested the thief.

Ernest Schmidt of Scranton, Pa., sent to President Roosevelt a miniature coal car, topped off with coal and ornamented with the national colors carved out of a chunk of coal. The president sent Mr. Schmidt an autograph letter and autograph photograph in appreciation.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Mrs. Leslie Carter will appear on the Pacific coast before her present tour ends.

"The Dictator," Richard Harding Davis' newest play, is a decided hit at the Criterion theater, New York.

Richard Carle expects to produce a new musical piece, "The Mummy and the Maid," in Chicago the first week in June. Violet Dale will appear in the leading ingenue role.

An Indian drama, "Nisowassa," was produced recently in Milwaukee. The piece was written by Jacob Kurtz and founded on a legend of the Winnebago and Menominee tribes.

Clyde Fitch within the next four months expects to write two plays, one for Clara Bloodgood. Mr. Fitch will do most of his work in Sicily, where he wrote "Her Own Way."

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

The Argentine Republic will send the gunboat cruiser Patria to St. Louis for the world's fair.

Eleven main entrances have been established at the fair grounds, each being equipped with many turnstiles.

A big parade, called the "parade of peoples and beasts," will be a feature of Pike day, June 4. Six thousand natives from all climes, speaking thirty tongues, will take part.

A charge of $10 per car a day will be made for the storage of private railroad cars at the grounds during the exposition. An admission charge of 50 cents per day will be made for each person occupying the cars.

SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

A Swiss watchmaker has invented an electric watch which will go for fifteen years without being rewound.

A new torch for mariners generates gas and ignites on contact with water. It floats upright, is not extinguished by wind or water and gives a light of 300 to 10,000 candle power for half an hour.

A professor of McGill university, Montreal, has brought out an invention which may enable ships to dispense with pilots in rivers and harbors. By means of telephones a ship's officers are enabled to keep to the line of an insulated cable laid on the bed of the navigable channel.

HALL AND STAIRCASE.

Never and Inexpensive Decoration by Means of Mock Paneling.

There is one sine qua non as regards the luxury of indulging in "styles" in furnishing, and that is that one must have a house suited to the purpose. It is often a question of adapting the decoration to the house, making the most of such opportunities as the architectural features of the latter afford and minimizing any of its drawbacks to artistic effect.

When building a house the reception hall is now a feature, and in old houses

DECORATION FOR A STAIRCASE.

Something can occasionally be done in the way of alterations and turning the staircase round so as to gain space for a comfortable hall sitting room. However, where an old hall is of good width a simple method of treatment may be very satisfactory, and such is suggested by the accompanying sketch of a hall and staircase fresh from the hands of a clever decorator.

The redeeming feature here in the staircase of a large, solidly built, but not architecturally interesting house is the turn of the three lower steps forming a landing or resting place before the straight ascent of the next flight. This is accentuated by the graceful curve of the baluster rail, surmounted with a tall electric light fitting in wrought iron, the latter corresponding with the light ironwork of the balusters.

The walls are hung with a warm crimson damask paper admirably fulfilling the object of providing good, rich background color. There is a cornice frieze of relief work painted white, and up the sides of the staircase runs a dado of mock paneling—i. e., a paneling formed of moldings and a dado rail fixed to the wall and with the spaces between them painted white.

The same dado is repeated in the hall, and all the woodwork is white, with the exception of the doors, which are stained and grained to a rich mahogany tone.

On the hall floor and staircases is a thick pile carpet, soft myrtle green in tone, completing the impression, which every well considered hall should give, of a house in which warmth and comfort are the predominating elements.

Attention may be drawn to the practical consideration that a treatment such as this need not by any means involve an extensive outlay, no structural alterations being made and the ornament being of the simplest kind.

Quite an inexpensive wall paper will do all that is required in the matter of color, while the mock paneling, of which the effect is excellent, is a very different matter as regards cost from the handmade paneling.

Renovating For Summer.

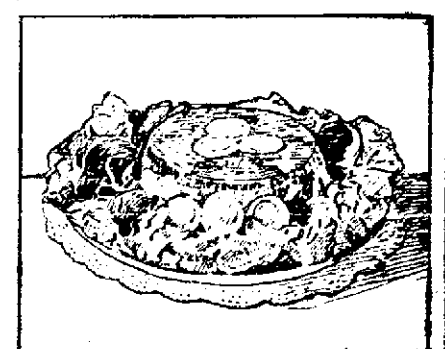

Have carpets cleaned and rolled up with camphor balls, or moth balls so called, and pinned up in stout, unbleached muslin. Then lay cool Japanese or Chinese matting in their natural tints or in pale greens and blues on the floors and hang at the windows white lawn ruffled curtains. Replace all stuff table covers and draperies by others made of cool cotton or linen fabrics; in fact, let not an inch of woolen or worsted material be seen in your renovated rooms.

Layer Cake.

To two well beaten eggs add two cupfuls of powdered sugar and whip steadily for fifteen minutes. This should give a fluffy, creamy mixture. Add alternately two cupfuls of flour and one cupful of milk, continuing to beat well. Stir in one teaspoonful of baking powder and one teaspoonful of vanilla and bake in layer pans.

A Hearty Lunch or Supper Salad.

With tomatoes and cold meat a hearty lunch or supper salad can be prepared, says Table Talk. Cut up and sew the former, seasoning them with salt, pepper, chopped onion, a few cloves and a bit of bay leaf. When soft press through a sieve and to each pint add two tablespoonfuls of tomato catsup.

SALAD WITH TOMATO JELLY.

gon vinegar and a scant half of a box of gelatin soaked in one-third of a cupful of cold water.

When the latter is dissolved and the mixture is chilled and beginning to thicken, mix with the dried cold meat torn into wadded molds and set away until firm, serving on a bed of lettuce or water cress, with mayonnaise and a garnish of hard boiled eggs.

SELECTIONS

ANTIQUITY OF CIVILIZATION.

The March of Time From Flint Implements to Ivory Statuettes.

So far as the question of time is concerned it deserves notice that not merely geology, but almost every form of inquiry into the past, throws further back the limits usually assigned.

Egypt, for instance, is continually furnishing fresh proofs of the antiquity of civilization. Professor Petrie, who expounded at Owens college, Manchester, England, a few days ago the results of recent explorations at Abydos, in upper Egypt, from which it appears that the ruins at that one spot tell a continuous story that carries us back to 5000 B. C. Abydos was the first capital of Egypt and remained for forty-five centuries the religious center, the Canterbury of the land, and there the Egyptian Exploration fund has unearthed the remains of "ten successive temples, one over the other." From the age of the first temple a group of about 200 objects has been found, which throws surprising light on the civilization of the first dynasty. A part of a large glazed pottery vase of Menes, the first king of the first dynasty, about 4700 B. C., showed "that even then they were making glaze on a considerable scale, and also inlaying it with a second color. The ivory carving was astonishingly fine, a figure of a king showing a subtlety and power of expression as good as any work of later ages."

At about 4000 B. C. an ivory statuette of Cheops, the builder of the great pyramid, was found, the only known portrait of him. Making every possible allowance for the marvelous rapidity of art development, must not many thousands of years have rolled over between the pristine dwellers in the Nile valley and the men who carved ivory statuettes and manufactured glazed wood inlaid with second colors? It is a long, long march from flint implements to the solemn temple ivory statuettes and human portraits.—London Telegraph.

Diamonds.

The diamond, despite its high price, is not the most fashionable stone. The emerald enjoys that distinction, but the colored stone must have a few diamonds "to throw it up." "When I was a youngster," says a famous jeweler, "emeralds were $20 a carat. Today a fine stone is worth $2,000. A twenty grain pearl I used to sell at $400. Today it would be worth $3,000. Rubies and sapphires have gone up also, but not so much in proportion. During my long experience some stones have come in and gone out of favor, the cat's eye, for example. Settings are lighter than they used to be. The fashion is to set precious stones in platinum, as platinum never tarnishes. I don't think with platinum we get as much brilliancy out of the stone as with silver, but silver in foggy weather goes black. Never buy a diamond set in gold. If you see one in a gold mount, you may be suspicious. A yellow stone painted with black ink looks white, and it is then set in gold. That is the way in which many pawnbrokers have been taken in."

When an Oil Lamp Was a Curiosity.

C. M. Shackelford, a Shelby county pioneer, was the first man to introduce oil in the county. Some time in the fifties he visited St. Louis and brought to Shelbyville two lamps and a couple of gallons of oil.

When the citizens of the village learned of it, there was considerable excitement—much more than when the electric lights were turned on a few years ago. About 400 people gathered at the store to watch Mr. Shackelford take his life in his hands. He loaded up the lamp, turned the wick and prepared for illumination by fastening a paper lighted on the end of a stick. The crowd looked uneasy, but didn't run, and the new lighting works were an entire success. Oil cost $3 per gallon. Mr. Shackelford bought some to introduce the improvement among his fellow citizens, but he only disposed of a gallon the following year. — Clarence (Mo.) Courier.

New Jersey Penny of 1787.

Mr. J. P. Fitch claims to have the oldest coin in Baltimore. It is a penny made in 1787 by the state of New Jersey. This was one year before Washington was made president of the country and five years before the United States penny was made. One side of the coin contains a shield and the motto "E Pluribus Unum," and on the other is a horse's head and a plow and the words "Nova Caesarea." Mr. Fitch found the penny on the property of his grandfather, the late Christian Leib, who was a soldier in the Revolutionary war. The farm was in York county, Pa., and the coin was found near a still, together with a penny of 1800, which Mr. Leib also has in his possession.—Baltimore Sun.

An Unresponsive Mayor.

Already Mayor McClellan's fame has reached beyond the Alps where lies Italy. His honor some time ago received from a subject of King Victor Emmanuel a letter in which the writer explains that he is an adept at thought transference. He says that a thought has been wanted across the ocean informing him that the mayor would lend him 1,000 lire for a short time. Since then two more letters have arrived from the same correspondent. Colonel McClellan has figured it out that 1,000 lire is about $195, so he has done his best to transfer this thought to Italy, "Nothin' doin'."

NEWARK

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CITY IN THE STATE OF OHIO.

Is the Compliment Editor of the Hocking Sentinel Pays to the Place—Fr. O'Boylan Complimented

The Hocking Sentinel of Logan, O., has the following that will be of interest in Newark:

"We read with pleasure in a late issue of the Newark Advocate that 'With the approbation of Rt. Rev. James Hartley, the Bishop of Columbus, Very Rev. B. M. O'Boylan is about to establish two new parishes in that city. Fine new buildings are to be erected in both East and West Newark, and each of the new parishes will be equipped with modern chapels and schools.'

"Father O'Boylan is well known to our Logan people, for years our near Stratsville neighbor and often, indeed always our welcome guest.

"Of the times that lived at Stratsville and at Columbus, record is not needed in the passing papers. That the good man, in his ministry, has come to a church charge in the most beautiful city in Ohio, that his dispensation is welcome is pleasant for his friends to know. We hope he will not forget the lads of that old time who were brought to church and made good by methods other than the ring of a bell or a text from the Book.

"The Hocking Valley in which Fr. O'Boylan is so well known for his good work out on the 'lead line' will join in prayer as in congratulation, that his years be long continued and his good works multiplied."

IN MEMORIAM.

At the last regular meeting of Golden Rod Lodge No. 100, A. O. U. W., the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom and mercy, to remove from our midst our beloved brother, Lucius J. Sullivan, who met his death while in discharge of his duties, April 22, 1904, and

Whereas, In the death of Brother Sullivan, Golden Rod Lodge has lost one of its most faithful and devoted members, his family a loving and true husband and father, and this community one of its best respected citizens and

Whereas, We mourn the taking away of our brother, whose voice was always lifted in defense of the right and who was ever ready to remember his obligations when occasion presented the opportunity and whose kindly, genial disposition won him friends wherever he went. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family of our deceased brother, our heartfelt sympathy in this dark hour of their sorrow and commend them to the kind mercies of an all-wise and loving Father for solace in this deep affliction.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge that a copy be sent each of the city papers for publication and a copy be sent to the bereaved family of our departed brother.

OBITUARY

CAPT. L. J. JOHNSON.

Another one of Newark's oldest and most highly esteemed pioneer residents has been called home in the person of Luther James Johnson, who died at his home, 111 North Fifth street, on Saturday night at 10 o'clock, after a lingering illness of the disease peculiar to advanced age, he being in the 77th year of his age at the time of his death.

The deceased was born in Hartford county, Maryland, in June of 1827. When quite young he left the paternal home and went to Baltimore, Md., where he engaged in the grocery business, in which business he continued for some time, being quite successful.

When only 21 years old he was united in marriage to Miss Eliza Johnson on March 15, 1849, and lived happily with her until about two years ago when she was taken from him by the grim reaper.

In 1858 the deceased came to Newark and entered the employ of Henry Smith as manager of the old Newark distillery, and later was bookkeeper for the Newark Artificial Gas Company. Afterwards he was made secretary of the Newark Gas Company and the Shawnee Coal Company, which positions he held until some fifteen years ago, when he retired from the active duties of life.

The deceased was also an old soldier of the civil war, having gone out a captain of Company G, One Hundred and Thirty-fifth C. V. I., "squirrel hunters," and served about one year and a half, and was a member of Lemert Post No. 71, G. A. R. He was a member of Warren Chapter No. 6, R. A. M., and Newark Lodge No. 97, F. & A. M., and also of Olive Branch of Odd Fellows and Bayard Taylor Council of the Royal Arcanum.

Eight children survive to mourn his death. They are Mrs. William Sprague, Newark; Oren S. Johnson, Springfield, O.; Mrs. Knodde, Richmond, Ind.; Mrs. C. C. Rankin, Newark; Mrs. David Evans, Chicago; Mrs. Sturgess, Mt. Vernon; H. J. Johnson, of Chicago, and Ernest Johnson, the druggist, of this city.

The deceased was a man who was universally esteemed by all who knew him, and his death will be sincerely mourned, not only by the immediate family but by his large circle of acquaintances.

The funeral services will be held from the late home of the deceased, 111 North Fifth street, on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. T. A. Cosgrove, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, officiating, and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

MRS. LLOYD'S FUNERAL.

The remains of Mrs. Lloyd, widow of the late David Lloyd, formerly of this city, arrived here this morning from Lima, where she died on Saturday, and were taken to the Welsh Congregational church, where the services were held Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. T. L. Kiernan, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, in the absence of the regular pastor. The interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

JOHN F. MCBIRDE

John Franklin McBride, aged 22 years, died Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McBride, in Madison township, about five miles southeast of Newark, after a long illness with lung trouble.

The deceased was well known in Newark, having resided in the city for about five years with his parents prior to their moving to the country about two years ago. He was employed as a car builder at the Jewett Car works. He was a member of the choir of the First M. E. church, and was also a member of the church.

The funeral will be held at the Second M. E. church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. T. W. Locke and the interment will take place at Cedar Hill cemetery.

ZANESVILLE DEATHS

Zanesville, O., May 2.—Homer J. Gibbons, the nineteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibbons, died Saturday at the home of his parents at Sonora, after a short illness with consumption. The boy was the Baltimore & Ohio operator at New Concord at the time of his death.

Mrs. Nancy A. Reasoner, aged 86 years, died Saturday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Warren Young. Death was due to old age.

PRETTY GIRL

Found Unconscious in Her Room Having Been Assaulted by Robbers at Wooster.

Wooster, O., May 2.—Miss Minnie Giessebach, aged 22, a very pretty and popular young resident of the city, was found in an unconscious condition in the sitting room at the home of her widowed mother, Saturday evening.

Physicians worked with the girl for several hours, and finally succeeded in restoring consciousness for a few moments, during which she said that a man who had entered the house, had tried to kill her. Her face was badly blistered, indicating that her assailant used a drug of some sort. Her gold watch is missing, and it is believed the girl was assaulted by a party who was robbing the apartments.

Birthday Party

One of the most enjoyable society events of last week was a birthday party given in honor of Miss Bernice Johnson at her home 335 East Main street Saturday afternoon. Music and games were indulged in until four o'clock when the guests marched to the dining room to the music of the piano played by Miss Lillie Shamp. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Bernice were Misses Helen Acton, Elizabeth Stewart, Ruth Castla, Hazel Nelson, Mildred Robe, Mildred Gore, Emma Harrison, Bessie Shrigley, Emma Boggs, Bernice Cripps, Adria Harrison, Inez Westbrook, Fay Emery, Helen Bell, Mabel Shamp, Estella Devlin, Helen Hall, Hazel Hall, Rachel Jones, Helen Johnson, Mary Little, and Queen Masters. Misses Mae Evans and Lillie Shamp assisted Miss Maude Johnson in entertaining the little folks. Miss Bernice received many beautiful gifts and all returned home wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Minnie Danner, of New Orleans, says she could not do without a bottle of Hamlin's Wizard Oil in her house. 50c at all druggists.

GRANVILLE

College Students and Citizens Celebrate Denison's Victory Over Kenyon Saturday Night.

Granville, O., May 2.—Saturday evening when the news was received of the victory of the Denison team over that of Kenyon, enthusiasm became rampant, and the victory was celebrated not only by the students, but by the people of the village. Three games scheduled to be played here, were, for various reasons, called off, and so this victory did away with the discouragement felt by the team and its manager. The students repaired as usual to Shepardson campus, blowing horns, files and carrying torches and making a great deal of noise in general. After yelling the score several times very lustily, in order that the men girls might appreciate the victory, and after singing loyally the good old Denison songs, the boys departed in their long, ghostly night shirt parade.

Mr. Burton Huston, an old and highly esteemed resident of Granville, and a veteran of the Civil war, sustained a severe stroke of paralysis on Saturday, by which his entire left side was affected. His sons have been called home on account of his critical condition.

Miss Iva Belmont and Arthur Williams of Newark, and William Daehler of Columbus, spent Sunday with Miss Mabel Tarr in Granville.

Messrs. Ernest Garbart and Harvey Hall are guests of their Phi Gam brothers.

Dwight Sample is visiting his Sig brothers.

Miss Florence Parrish of King Hall, Shepardson, was the guest of Mrs. Montgomery of Newark, on Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Anna Hughes of Columbus, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Granville and vicinity for the past week, has returned home.

Homer Williams of Portsmouth, was in the village a short time Saturday.
